Welcome

From Cllr Joan Spiers, Leader of Reigate & Banstead Borough Council

Hello, and welcome to the summer issue of Borough News.

In this issue, we look at how we support the borough’s young people to lead successful lives. I am extremely proud of our Young Workers Scheme, which has helped so many young people kick-start their careers. We are working with local businesses to encourage them to start their own schemes and provide opportunities for even more young people.

Read more on pages 8 and 9.

I am sure we are all pleased to welcome spring and summer and get outside. Our countryside rangers work hard so we can enjoy our parks and countryside and we welcome those who want to help by volunteering. You can read more about volunteer opportunities on page 6.

Actor and local resident, Shane Richie shares his idea of a perfect day in Reigate on page 10. On page 13, you can read about the events being held to celebrate Reigate and Redhill being a municipal borough for 150 years.

Finally, I’d like to say thank you, as we are now recycling 52% of our rubbish - a great achievement and one we can all be proud of. On page 11 we tell you more about what happens to your recycling after it is collected.

I hope everyone enjoys the summer.

Small business grants

Small businesses employing up to four people could be eligible to apply to the Council for a new type of business grant. The one-off awards of between £500 and £1,000 aim to help these businesses develop and grow by assisting with funding for:

- new or improved equipment such as machinery, tools or IT equipment
- property improvements
- training or recruitment.

For details and an application pack visit www.reigate-banstead.gov.uk/business.

Take a tour around the borough

From bats to butterflies, there’s something for everyone in this year’s guided walks and events programme. The programme lists walks from now until October. Why not discover an area you may never have been to before?

To download the programme, visit www.reigate-banstead.gov.uk or email countryside@reigate-banstead.gov.uk to request a copy.

New Local Assistance Scheme in Surrey

The Local Assistance Scheme is a discretionary fund, managed by Surrey County Council to help residents who have nowhere else to turn in an emergency or after a disaster. It has been set up following central government transferring responsibility to provide emergency financial support (through Crisis Loans and Community Care Grants) to Surrey County Council.

For more information about the scheme and how to apply, please email localassistancescheme@surreycc.gov.uk.
At the end of June, Redhill Help Shop is moving to the newly refurbished Harlequin Theatre, from its current location in Cromwell Road. In the near future, new applicants will also be able to see benefits and housing officers at Help Shops, enabling benefits applications and housing queries to be resolved more quickly.

The changes are part of improvements we are making to the way we deliver our face to face services to residents and will be rolled out to the borough’s other Help Shops and the Help Shop surgery at Preston Neighbourhood Shop later in the year.

Do you know where to go for care and support services in Surrey?

Knowing where to go for information and advice can be challenging, which makes it hard for people to access the right service or support they need. Now, there is one booklet that details the different support services across the county, from wellbeing centres to online directories such as Surrey Information Point. The booklet is available in all libraries, community centres, pharmacies and GP surgeries.

To get your copy, email contact.centre@surreycc.gov.uk.

Recognitions for our volunteers

Nominations for the Mayor’s Volunteer Awards are now open. Each year, in partnership with Reigate and Banstead Voluntary Service, we recognise the hard work our volunteers do and the contribution they make.

New leisure, community and youth centre a step closer

Plans for an exciting new leisure, community and youth centre and new homes in Preston have been given the go-ahead. Work on the new centre is expected to start in the autumn.

The £8.7 million Borough and County Council facility will include a 25 metre, six-lane swimming pool with ramped access, teaching pool, state of the art gym, dance/exercise studio, sports hall, five-a-side football pitches, youth and community space, a café and crèche.

We will shortly be asking local residents for their views on plans to improve Merland Rise Recreation Ground, including new playground designs.

We have also started making improvements to parking in the area, with the first two schemes in Chetwode Road and Merland Rise complete. Further improvements will take place in the coming months.

Lend a hand and join our conservation heroes

Get out more than you put in. Conservation volunteering is great exercise and the best way to learn more about our local environment. It might also take you to parts of our beautiful countryside that you have missed out on.

So if you’ve sat on every bench in Priory Park and want to breathe a different lungful of the borough’s fresh air then grab your wellies.

Ancient woodland off the beaten track
To escape the crowds, New Pond Farm is quieter than Reigate Heath or Earlswood Common. You’ll find the rare plant chamomile here, one reason why it is a Site of Nature Conservation Interest.

The ancient woodland and bluebell woods of Felland Copse are also the gateway to the wider countryside and a great location for circular walks. Though off a lot of people’s radar the Reigate Area Conservation Volunteers know these places well.

Nork Park is chalk grassland which is the sort of habitat that butterflies and wildflowers love. Then there’s the view, you can see half of west London. Restoring this grassland and managing invasive species like laurel is the important work carried out by Nork Park Conservation Volunteers and Downlands Countryside Management Project.

The Woodchip Volunteers focus on Stagbury Downs but also help make Banstead Woods a Site of Special Scientific Interest. If you are lucky, you might spot a woodpecker or tawny owl while you are pushing your wheelbarrow.

Interested in getting your hands dirty?
We would really welcome your help and in return you’ll learn about countryside management and our wildlife. Volunteering is also valuable experience for a future career in environmental management.

For conservation opportunities ask the Parks and Countryside team on 01737 276000, countryside@reigate-banstead.gov.uk or post a comment on our Countryside Facebook page.

“I like giving something back to a place that I love. Volunteering helps to keep areas like Stagbury Downs pleasant for everyone. It also helps to keep me active! I get out and about and am lucky enough to meet some great people along the way.”

Brian Gardner
Woodchip volunteer
Come and play in Reigate and Banstead

With 33 play areas in the borough, there are plenty of fun and free activities for families as summer fast approaches. Why not explore a playground you’ve not been to before? There’s always one close by.

Swings, slides and skating
We know it’s important for families to be able to enjoy a sunny day out and about in the borough. We invest over £50,000 per year maintaining and inspecting play equipment so your little ones can spend time using slides, playing hopscotch or swinging from the climbing frame.

Last year alone, Common Road playground in Earlswood, Beecholm Recreation area in Nork and Colesman play area in Redhill all received a facelift and some brand new equipment!

We also make sure there’s plenty to do for the older ones. As well as playgrounds, we invest in games areas and skate park facilities across the borough.

Exploring the borough
We spoke to Pippa, an active mum of two from Earlswood. With two energetic daughters - Daisy, nine, and Kiki, four - to keep entertained, Pippa is a frequent visitor to the borough’s play facilities.

“We moved to the area six years ago now from Morden in south London. We wanted a better quality of life with more open spaces. I’m always impressed with how many parks and playgrounds there are here. They really are fantastic facilities that are kept very well. It makes such a difference.”

The family often spend Saturday at the local playgrounds and parks - Somerset Road playground, Priory Park and Earlswood Lakes are particular favourites.

“I love spending time at the playground - the basket swing is definitely my favourite,” says Daisy.

No matter whether you live north, south, east or west of the borough, there’ll be somewhere for you to go and enjoy a sunny day.

Visit www.reigate-banstead.gov.uk/playgrounds for an online directory of all playgrounds, skate parks, multi-use areas and parks and, this summer, why not pack a picnic and spend a day somewhere you’ve never visited before?

What’s on offer this summer?
If you’ve recently moved to the area, are keen to make contact with other local parents, or want some inspiration about how to make the most out of the summer months, there are plenty of places you can search for ideas.

Thought about using local online parenting sites to find details of play areas, events and groups? Local mums online (www.localmumsonline.com) and Surrey Mummy (www.surreymummy.com) are good places to start.

You can check out our website, www.reigate-banstead.gov.uk/leisure, for activities for young people, leisure centres, walks and much more!
Getting behind our young people

Getting that first step on the job ladder is hard for young people. We want to make sure young people living in Reigate & Banstead succeed.

Young Workers Scheme
Getting experience on your CV is crucial. Our Young Workers Scheme solves that problem by providing six month contracts for local young people out of work for six months or more.

The aim
Steve Bevan, Training Adviser at Reigate & Banstead, sums it up:
“The concept is simple – by backing our young people and giving them a six month employment contract, they gain vital experience required to secure further employment.”

Under 24 and interested in the scheme? Email Nicki Weetman at Jobcentre plus at nicki.weetman@dwp.gsi.gov.uk.

Sixty second interview: Megan Parry
Megan is 20 and half way through her contract with our Customer Services team.

What skills has the young workers scheme given you for the future?
The confidence to answer and make calls, speak up in meetings and generally believe in myself.

What's the best part of the scheme?
Gaining work experience, training and advice from colleagues.

Do you think there's opportunity in the borough for young people?
Yes I do. Schemes like this make businesses aware that young people have useful skills.

What do you enjoy about living and working in the borough?
It’s a clean, green and attractive place with lots to do. I feel safe here and it has a nice community feel about it.

Local businesses get on board
We’re working with local businesses setting up their own schemes to create even more opportunities for young people. Raven Housing Trust and GLL, our leisure partner, are just two organisations investing in local talent.

So, keep an eye out for those local vacancies.

Local businesses interested in the scheme can email steve.bevan@reigate-banstead.gov.uk to find out more.
More opportunities for young people

Education, training and more
If you’re 16 make the most out of the options open to you. You can:
- Stay on at school/college or complete a course through a training provider.
- Learn part time whilst working or volunteering.
- Work full time whilst studying or training – by doing an apprenticeship.

Explore the full range of options by visiting www.surreycc.gov.uk/yournextmove.

Ever thought about volunteering?
Volunteering is an excellent way to get experience on your CV, create contacts and improve important skills like customer service. Look for volunteering opportunities in the career you’re interested in.

Become a Harlequin Volunteer
Sophia, 16, started volunteering at The Harlequin Theatre in Redhill in 2012:
“I began volunteering here because I wanted to work in an environment that was out of my comfort zone. It makes me more independent and confident.”

Download a volunteer information pack from The Harlequin’s website – www.harlequintheatre.co.uk or email ian.orrick@reigate-banstead.gov.uk.

Countryside volunteering
If you are interested in a career outdoors then consider our countryside volunteering opportunities.

Lydia Wright, 18, has been volunteering with our countryside rangers for a year:
“It’s good to do other things when you’re young. I am keen to work outside in conservation and countryside management. This gives me actual experience which will help me later on.”

What’s really out there?
In recent years, getting that first job has got harder, with dozens of candidates competing for the same job.

So what is here for you in Reigate and Banstead?
Nicki Weetman, Employment Adviser at Redhill Jobcentre Plus:
“Young people can search and apply for jobs using Universal Jobmatch at www.gov.uk/jobsearch. It uses the latest technology to match CVs and skills to jobs posted.”

Shane Richie’s Reigate

Local actor, Shane Richie, has been a Reigate & Banstead resident for the past five years. Here he describes his perfect Reigate day.

Village feel
“Reigate is one of Surrey’s best kept secrets; I love it. My day often starts early with a visit to my pal Tony Tobin at his restaurant The Dining Room. Then I’m ready to get out and about. Despite being close to London there’s quite a village feel to it.”

Martin’s, newsagents, is another of Shane’s favourites. “I always buy my lottery ticket from here. The staff are really friendly and there’s a great selection of all sorts of goods”.

A great asset
With his three younger children all under eight it is no wonder that Shane is also a big fan of Priory Park, especially the children’s play area. “They love it,” he says “it is such a fantastic asset to the town.”

Local traders
Progress can be slow: “It can take me ages to walk down the High Street - so many appealing places to pop into and people to chat with.” Shane is enthusiastic about the local traders: “Robert and Edwards is a welcoming traditional butcher – great sausages and excellent pies. There’s an eclectic variety of shops - my wife is a fan of Mint Velvet, so that little boutique is on my radar for birthdays and Christmas.”

Night life
Wandering back from the park, past The Cage wine bar, Shane comments on the Reigate night life. “I like the transition from day to evening,” he says. “It has an almost European feel. When going out I like to drop into Joules cocktail bar on Bell Street before heading down to the more traditional pubs and restaurants on the High Street.”

Traditional
When it comes to hairdressers there’s plenty of choice in Reigate: “I popped into that new barbers shop Dash recently and enjoyed a traditional wet shave – that’s something you don’t get everywhere these days.”

Quintessentially English
As for cafes, the Vintage Tea Room in Church Street gets Shane’s vote. “I often meet up here with family, it is so quintessentially English,” he says. “It’s the only place I know where you can have afternoon tea and buy a bedside cabinet at the same time!”

Be proud
“Essentially, it’s a great local town for everyone – people are passionate about holding on to its unique identity and I totally agree - it is a place to treasure and be proud of.”

You can see Shane playing Alfie Moon in EastEnders on BBC One.
Where does it all go?

Ever wondered what happens to your recycling? Redhill resident Clive Oliver and his wife did, so council recycling expert Lizzy Pye explains what their rubbish is turned into.

Redhill resident Clive Oliver sought our help when he and his wife questioned what happened to their recycling. Here council recycling expert Lizzy Pye explains all the things their rubbish is turned into.

Clive told us “We throw out very little food but we do wonder what our scraps are used for.” “The simple answer is fertiliser” says Lizzy. “Food waste is shredded, liquid added, it’s left to ferment and then sold to farmers for use on local farms.”

“And why do we recycle paper and card separately from other materials?” asks Clive. Lizzy solves the mystery. “We raise more money by selling them separately to recycling companies; that helps keep pressure on council tax down. They’re pulped, then made into new paper and card.”

Lizzy also explained what happens to other items that people throw out: “Plastic items are sorted, melted down and could come back as fleeces, pipes and new plastic containers. And the glass bottles and jars you recycle are sorted by colour, melted down and made into new glass and fibreglass. So lots of our rubbish can be used again as long as we recycle things in the right containers”.

Recycling round up

Recycling comes to flats

From late summer 2013 we’re starting to introduce the new recycling collection service to people living in flats and other homes with shared bin areas. Keep an eye on www.reigate-banstead.gov.uk/recyclemore for the latest news on the roll out.

Please ‘recycle it right’

Putting the wrong items in your mixed recycling bin means we cannot collect or use the rest of your recycling. If in doubt, check first.

Keep up to date and visit: www.reigate-banstead.gov.uk/recyclemore

Follow us on Twitter at: Twitter.com/reigatebanstead

Find us on Facebook.

Don’t forget our recycling centres can help you to recycle what you can’t from your home. Visit our website for their location details.

Shane Richie’s children help him rethink his rubbish:

“They’re always asking where our trash should go and if things can be recycled!”
Providing help and support through benefits changes

What you can do to prepare, how we can help and where you can go for advice and support.

Benefits Officers have been providing advice to residents affected by the benefits changes. We spoke to Sarah* from Tadworth, one of 40 families in the borough affected by the benefits cap.

“When the Council explained the changes I was worried about how I’d manage as I’d lose £110 a week. As a single parent with four children I struggled to find a job to fit around my childcare. But they gave me advice on what I could do to prepare and put me in touch with back to work schemes to help me find work. I’m now working 16 hours a week so will be better off and won’t lose my benefits.”

What you can do to prepare:

• Budget carefully – get advice to help you budget and plan ahead.

• Get a bank account – benefits will be paid directly to claimants. We can provide information about Basic Bank Accounts if you don’t have one.

• Set up a Direct Debit – it takes the worry out of budgeting and makes sure your bills are paid on time.

• Get online – in future most benefits claims will need to be made online.

If you find you are struggling to pay your bills, don’t ignore it. Contact your creditors as soon as possible and seek independent debt advice.

For more information, visit www.reigate-banstead.gov.uk, call Revenues and Benefits on 01737 276497 or email benefits@reigate-banstead.gov.uk.

BEWARE

of loan sharks

A Loan Shark, or an illegal money lender, is someone who lends money without having a Consumer Credit Licence. They often charge high interest rates, frequently don’t provide any paperwork and may harass, bully or intimidate borrowers into paying back much more than they borrowed.

If you are using a Loan Shark you can get advice or report illegal money lenders anonymously on 0300 555 2222.
