HOW CAN BOOKS HELP?

The books on the Reading Well list offer tips and ideas to help you understand and manage your emotions as well as cope with difficult situations.

Some of the recommended books suggest useful self-help techniques. There are also personal stories, graphic novels and fiction. Reading about other people's experiences and feelings can sometimes help you understand your own.

You can use the books on their own, although self-help reading often works best with support from a health professional. Your doctor can advise you on the support that's available. There are more suggestions about useful fiction at:

HOW DO I JOIN THE LIBRARY?

It's easy and free to join your local library. Some libraries may need proof of your name and address and may require permission from an adult if you're under 16. A member of library staff will help you join – and once you have a library card, you can take out any of the books there.

WHAT IF I NEED MORE HELP?

You don't need to struggle on your own. Your GP will be able to offer help and advice. You might also find it helpful to talk things through with people you trust such as your parents, a friend or a teacher, or a school nurse or counsellor if you're still at school.

For support mycamhschoices.org has information and short films on mental health services or visit youngminds.org.uk, a national charity committed to improving the emotional wellbeing and mental health of young people. The following organisations offer support and counselling:
